Mike is the kind of leader who transforms both teams and projects with his positive energy and open mindset. He has a rare ability to make everyone feel valued while driving results with clarity and focus. Mike balances structure with flexibility, ensuring deadlines are met while keeping the team motivated and engaged. His communication skills and empathy make him excellent at resolving conflicts and fostering collaboration across all levels. Beyond project management, he brings strengths in organization, marketing, and sales, making him a true strategic partner. What sets Mike apart is his genuine care for people and his ability to elevate the whole company culture. Whether managing complex initiatives, rallying a team under pressure, or simply lifting spirits, Mike consistently delivers :)
Any organization would be fortunate to have him - not only for his skills but also for the positive impact he has wherever he goes.
It was a pleasure to work with someone who is truly passionate about what he does and full of initiative and ideas.

This guy is the heart of every occasion. You notice him straight away when he steps into the room with his positive energy and open mindset. His abilities to make you feel welcome and important are out of this world. These characteristics make him a superb allay to interact with new leads, manage different stakeholder, projects and plan for the future growth.
I have seen this man transforming a product from zero to hero within 6 months where the key factors were showcasing the clear vision, endless opportunities, constant care and enormous dedication towards the team. His mindset and #letsgetthingsdone attitude is contagious which makes him an outstanding leader among others.
Mike is the kind of guy you want to have around whatever the situation (either doing CPR or putting together the strategy for long term growth).

I've had the privilege of working with Mike as a project manager across successful projects. His exceptional ability to juggle numerous initiatives simultaneously while maintaining clear focus on priorities is truly impressive. Mike creates an outstanding team atmosphere that brings out the best in everyone, and he has a remarkable talent for steering teams in the right direction with confidence and clarity.
What sets Mike apart is his comprehensive skill set spanning communication, management, organization, marketing, and sales. He's consistently brought projects to successful completion without unnecessary overhead or micromanagement. Beyond his professional capabilities, Mike is genuinely empathetic, putting the team first and establishing himself as not just a respected colleague but someone I'm proud to call a buddy.
His British accent is a pleasant bonus, as is his impressive studio setup complete with camera equipment, lighting, and audio gear. I'd enthusiastically recommend Mike to any organization looking for a project manager who delivers results while fostering a positive team environment.

Mar 2025 · Worked with Mike on the same team

I have had the pleasure of working closely with Mike on several projects at birkle IT over the past six months, and I can confidently say that he is an exceptional leader and project manager. Mike is a true "people's person," with an innate ability to connect with and motivate his team. His communication skills are excellent, making it easy for him to clearly convey ideas, set expectations, and foster collaboration across all levels of the team.
One of Mike's standout qualities is his talent for resolving conflicts and managing team dynamics. He approaches challenges with empathy and understanding, ensuring that all voices are heard and that any disagreements are resolved constructively. His leadership style is centered around creating an environment where everyone feels valued, recognized, and appreciated, which significantly boosts team morale and productivity.
Mike's genuine care for his team's well-being, combined with his strong leadership and project management capabilities, makes him a truly valuable asset to any organization. I wholeheartedly recommend him for any leadership or managerial role.

Mike Maton – Exceptional Project Manager and Leader
Working with Mike on the Quick Reports project has been an absolute pleasure. As a project manager, he demonstrated outstanding leadership, clear communication, and a deep understanding of both technical and business aspects. His ability to keep the team aligned, motivated, and focused on delivering high-quality results was truly impressive.
What makes Mike stand out is not just his expertise but also his personality. He is approachable, supportive, and always ready to help solve challenges—whether technical or organizational. His structured yet flexible approach to project management ensured that deadlines were met without compromising quality.
Beyond his professional skills, Mike is simply a great person to work with. His positive attitude, problem-solving mindset, and ability to bring out the best in his team make him an invaluable asset to any project. Any company would be lucky to have him as a project manager, and I highly recommend him to anyone looking for a leader who truly cares about both the project and the people behind it.

Jan 2025 · Worked with Mike on the same team

Working alongside Mike at birkle IT has been a highlight of my professional journey. As a Project Manager, Mike combines razor-sharp organizational skills with a talent for fostering collaboration—qualities that have consistently driven our projects to success.
Mike's ability to orchestrate complex initiatives is remarkable. He meticulously tracks budgets and timelines using tools like Tempo in Jira, ensuring nothing slips through the cracks, while his expertise in Confluence keeps documentation clear and accessible. But beyond the tools, it's his leadership that stands out. Mike effortlessly bridges the gap between clients, vendors, and our internal teams, creating a culture of transparency and trust. His calm demeanor during high-pressure situations and his knack for turning challenges into opportunities have made him a go-to partner for stakeholders at all levels.
What I admire most is how Mike's work complements our client-focused mission at birkle IT. His proactive risk mitigation and dedication to delivering on promises have directly supported my efforts in client acquisition and relationship management. Whether he's presenting polished reports to senior leadership or rallying developers to meet a tight deadline, Mike does it with a blend of professionalism and approachability that inspires confidence.
Mike isn't just a skilled project manager—he's a strategic thinker, a trusted partner, and someone who elevates everyone around him. I couldn't recommend him more highly to any team seeking a leader who delivers results with integrity and heart.

Jan 2025 · Worked with Mike on the same team

I had the pleasure of working with Mike for nearly seven months during which he consistently demonstrated exceptional leadership and organizational skills.
He managed complex projects efficiently, ensuring all team members aligned with the objectives and deadlines. His proactive communication and problem-solving abilities fostered a collaborative atmosphere, overcoming challenges easily and keeping projects on track.
Mike's dedication and attention to detail were invaluable to our success, and I highly recommend him for any future endeavors.

Attention to detail, Trust and Approachable are just a few words out of a huge list of positive things to describe Mike by. After Mike joined birkleIT there was an immediate and positive shift in one of our in house projects Mike was assigned to. Deadlines were finally met, retention rate went up and people were very happy work work under Mike's leadership. This is just of one of the many examples of the great things Mike has achieved at birkleIT.
What really sets Mike apart though and what companies should value even more is his ability to not only keep the team spirit- but the entire company spirits high. Mike is that key player your company needs and will really be the warm heart and soul of the entire company.
It's been a pleasure working together with Mike both because of the person who he is and because of his excellent and proven project management skills.

I had the pleasure of working with Mike, who joined our team as a project manager and immediately made a profound impact. His high motivation and dedication to going the extra mile have significantly advanced our project. His enthusiasm is contagious, inspiring the entire team to strive for excellence.
Mike is incredibly well-connected and actively seeks opportunities to expand his network, benefiting the team through valuable resources and collaborations. His expertise in the field is impressive, and working alongside him has been both rewarding and enjoyable. He genuinely cares about each team member, offering unwavering support and standing with us through challenges.
Having him on the team has not only driven our success but has also made the workplace more positive and encouraging. I highly recommend Mike to any organization looking for a project manager who truly leads by example.

I had the pleasure of working with Mike. His impact on our project was both immediate and impressive. Despite being new to the team, he quickly familiarized himself with the project's complexities and began contributing significantly in a remarkably short time. His positive and energetic attitude created a vibrant environment, lifting team morale and motivating us all to perform at our best.
Mike's proactive approach and willingness to take on tasks beyond his formal responsibilities pushed our project forward in ways we hadn't anticipated. His genuine ability to connect with each team member on a personal level fostered trust and open communication, making collaboration seamless. I wholeheartedly recommend Mike to any team seeking a project manager who not only meets expectations but consistently exceeds them, both in his professional output and personal impact on team dynamics.

Oct 2023 · Worked with Mike on the same team

I'm happy to write a recommendation for Mike, a colleague I've had the pleasure of working closely with at the WebLock team.
Mike is not only highly professional and organized but also incredibly methodical in his approach. His attention to detail and systematic work style ensure that tasks are completed efficiently and accurately. What sets Mike apart is his ability to balance innovation with practicality, making him both creative and pragmatic in his work.
Mike is quick, precise, and always hands-on, consistently delivering high-quality results. His empathetic nature and occasional (and admittedly cheesy) dad-jokes help maintain a positive and a friendly working environment for everyone around him.
In addition to his professional skills, Mike is a fantastic team player and a reliable friend. He readily collaborates with others, offering support and guidance whenever needed. Mike's approachable personality and genuine kindness make him a joy to work with.
I wholeheartedly recommend Mike, confident that his professional expertise and friendly disposition make him a valuable asset to any organization. He would undoubtedly be an excellent addition to any team.

Michael is an incredibly versatile and creative person. Once he becomes interested in an idea or technology, he will dig deep to understand it on an advance user level (at lest) and will enthusiastically share the knowledge he has acquired. He has great attention to detail, every little thing will be checked out and tested, and made use of.
His passion for knowledge is practical, he will immediately put new principles and instruments to work, to advance whatever product or project he is working on currently. He is happy to share the knowledge, to teach what he has himself learned, and prompts others to use new things to their advantage, to work smarter, faster, in a more efficient way.
He is a great colleague, both as a professional and a person: he is very comfortable to be around and to share a project with, very attentive, very supportive, happy both to learn and to teach.

Jun 2023 · Worked with Mike on the same team
Working with Mike was a short and sweet journey, during which it was clear from the first steps the immense professional knowledge, passion and empathy he brought to the team.
Mike is a rare gem who cared for his team at the same level as one would for their kids, which was completely natural to him and enabled him to really empower, make shine and help bring out the best in the people around him. He took action to solve any problems, be it in documentation and communication management, and always focused on solutions.
Furthermore Mike has completely unexpected ways of bringing value to the team - be it creating the PMO team's first (legendary) animated musical video or just convincing the team to order lunch from Gotsu.
I am fully confident that any team having Mike should consider them to be extremely lucky. If all the teams had their Mike, the world would be a much better place.
